Video Surveillance, Security & Fire,
Remote Management Systems, and Access Control

Because your small business is not so small to you.

Thinking about ROI, operations, and liability? Us too.

Whether you're the sole proprietor of a single location or you operate a chain of stores, chances are you have problems shared by every small business owner: theft, unexplained inventory shortages, shoplifting, fraud, employee productivity. The list goes on and on. ASG Security can help.

We've spent years working with small businesses to understand the issues that concern you the most. As a leading partner with small business, ASG has developed solutions to address your everyday problems effectively and affordably. ASG is not your ordinary security company; we think like you do. Our specialists focus on things like return on investment, operational effectiveness, and premise liability. We'll work with you to understand your needs and, with our experience and superior product application, we'll customize the right system for you. Not just a traditional security system, but an integrated method of tackling your security and business needs – and most importantly – improving your bottom line.

How do we do it? We combine superior products, creative thinking, and leading technology to provide you with critical information in real time. All of this is backed up by dependable, best-in-class service by our highly trained technicians and central monitoring staff. At ASG, we put the power of security in your hands.

Security Made Simple

ASG's intelligent Touch Screen system is the new standard for small business security.

- Our graphical touch screen display ensures error-free operation. Its menu-driven prompts walk you or your employees through even the most advanced system functions step-by-step.
- Get information and control right at your fingertips by accessing the onboard event log.
- View when your system was used and who used it.
- Use the system message center to communicate important instructions to employees about your business operations.
- Add low-cost back-up wireless communications to guard against phone line cuts.
- Options include hold-up and fire protection, video alarm verification, remote keyfob access, remote telephone arming/disarming and more.

Use Video Surveillance to achieve control over employee and customer theft, false accident claims, premise liability, worker productivity, and most importantly — your bottom line.

- Strategically located color surveillance cameras act as a strong visual deterrent.
- Digitally record all site activity with digital video recorders (DVR) built for the small business budget.
- Review cash register transactions such as VOID and NO SALE in minutes with our optional cash register text inserter.
- Remotely access your cameras from any computer in the world with OzVision™ by ASG.

ASG makes Access Control an affordable solution for any small business.

- Prevent loss by limiting employee access to the key areas of your business – storage rooms, manager's office, and other sensitive areas. You decide when and where employees, vendors, and customers can go. We'll do the rest.
- Our single or multi-door system employs reliable proximity cards or keyfobs. Your ASG consultant will help you select the right locking hardware. We'll also provide complete installation, training, and ongoing service.
- Card and PIN options are onboard. Readers are available in black, charcoal gray, and ivory. Optional software allows for event reporting and printing.

Remote Video Solutions

Take total control of your business with Remote Video Solutions by ASG.

Watch your business with remote video surveillance, or let us do the work for you.

- With alarm video verification, ASG operators will receive video images from before and after alarm activation. We'll prevent false alarms, prioritize the real ones, reduce false alarm fines, and even send you an email video clip of the event.
- With opening/closing video reports, you can see who went in or out, whether anyone was with them and if they carried anything away.
- With ASG virtual visits you can monitor your business any time by receiving scheduled video email clips.
- Endless possibilities include: preventing employee theft, checking the stockroom, notification of safe openings, and monitoring customer service. You're now in control!
